

Introduction to the United Micronations
Multi-Oceanic Archipelago (UMMOA) and related things

by HMRD Cesidio Tallini

Country Facts

Territory:	30 islands, atolls, archipelagos or points scattered across the Pacific Ocean, Caribbean Sea, Atlantic Ocean, Mediterranean Sea, Red Sea, and Indian Ocean; one Antarctic continental territory; one diaxenospitia
Capital:	Cyberterra (geo point)
Largest City:	Fifth World Community
Official Language(s):	English and Italian superofficial; French and Russian official; Portuguese officially used daily; any other language with good translators can be granted official status, since one of the national missions of the UMMOA is “to preserve as much linguistic diversity as is practical, culturally desirable, and economically feasible”.
Demonym/ Ethnonym:	Ummoagian (Um-moa-gi-an)
Leadership:	Hon Most Rev Dr Cesidio Tallini, Governor
Date of foundation:	19 January 2008
Date of territorial establishment:	6 May 2008
Date of statal establishment:	14/09/11
Area claimed:	circa 7,695 km ² (2,971 mi ²) for insular area, 432,000 km ² (166,796 mi ²) for continental area
Territorial disputes with:	US, Canada, Belize, Portugal, Haiti, Colombia, Jamaica, Nicaragua, Marshall Islands, France, Madagascar, Comoros, Mauritius, Seychelles, India, Bangladesh, and Kiribati
Declared disputes with:	US (US Department of the Interior)
Nationals (nominal and factual):	68 (as of 5 November 2013)
Indigenous nationals:	3 (4.41%)

Recognised Tribes:	Ryamecah (RY) (Native North American), Hernici (8ED) (Aboriginal European)
Diaxenospitians (cosmopolitan):	37 (54.41%)
GDP:	The UMMOA government does not treat the private wealth of its individual nationals as collective or national wealth, as it finds nothing legitimate with this imperialistic and parasitical practice. UMMOA nationals or Ummoagians have a nationalised wealth worth a current market value of 200 US dollars (134.54 Euro) — figures as of 16 September 2014
Currency:	Cyberterra Dollar (CTD) [\approx 0.602 USD]
Time Zone(s):	Cyberterra Mean (or Meridian) Time or UTC + 1 (no summer or daylight savings time observed); local times vary between UTC + 12 to UTC - 11
Internet TLD(s):	The UMMOA uses ummoa.global, ummoa.international, and ummoa.country, as well as several others listed at ummoa.domains; the full .gv, .ugv, .ummoa, .amomu, .island, .islands, .state, .atoll, .banq, .reef, and the partial .tf and .aq TLDs have also been used in the past through the UMMOA's alternative root; the UMMOA no longer actively uses, or identifies with, the .um deleted TLD in either the global root, or the UMMOA's alternative root
Nations part of the Fifth World Community:	Principado do Ilhéu da Pontinha, Sovereign Nations Oasis, The Tallini Family
Bilateral Treaties/MOUs established with:	Republic of Cabinda (Kabinda), CCLP Worldwide, Sovereign Order of St. John of Jerusalem — Knights of Malta
Multilateral Treaties entered into:	DLCC Document Convention, Declaration of Washington, Anti-Antarctic Treaty System, Space Debris Treaty, Multi-Oceanic Garbage Patch Treaty, Great Pacific Garbage Patch Treaty, Cyberterra Treaty
Organisational Memberships (NGOs):	Nations Without States, The Multipurpose Inter-Parliamentary Union, CCLP Worldwide, Foundation for Endangered Languages, Middlebury Institute
Recognitions (OEAS/UNPO members, IGOs, government agencies):	Republic of Cabinda (or Kabinda), Government of Southern Cameroons (or Ambazonia/British Southern Cameroons), Organization of Emerging African States, United States Patent and Trademark Office
Patron Saint:	The Patron Saint of Cyberterra is Saint René Descartes (13 December)

UMMOA Nationals Map

The United Micronations Multi-Oceanic Archipelago (UMMOA) was founded by the Hon Most Rev Dr Cesidio Tallini on 19 January 2008, although it is the by-product of much earlier and less complex institutions. The UMMOA's 30 insular possessions have no indigenous population, and an inhabitable area of about 7,695 square kilometres (2,971 square miles). The UMMOA also claims an Antarctic area of about 432,000 square kilometres (166,796 square miles), and an inhabited diaxenospitia (a kind of global village or burgh).

On 6 May 2008, the UMMOA gained both a territorial and virtual domain when Cesidian Root (CRt) operators legally invaded United States name space, and in the most peaceful and bloodless battle in world history they annexed the 11 insular possessions formerly known as the United States Minor Outlying Islands (USMOI).

By the way, this story is no joke, nor was it treated as such, for on 22 July 2008, the UMMOA even achieved a small measure of de jure status for itself when it became an archipelago accredited and incorporated with the International States Parliament for Safety and Peace. The US Department of the Interior has publicly declared that it disputes these territorial claims, but since it claims they are "Tallini's claims", the US Department of the Interior also appears to be denying the existence of the UMMOA Nation or People, which is, in fact, a denial of reality, since no single man or even family could ever have all this power intrinsically.

The City of Cyberterra (CT), a geographical point in the middle of the Adriatic Sea, and located at the geo coordinates of 43°0'0" North and 15°0'0" East, is the Capital of the UMMOA, and its UTC + 1 local time standard, also known as the Cyberterra Mean or Meridian Time (CMT) standard, is used as the UMMOA's global time standard — no summer or daylight savings time is observed with the CMT standard. Cyberterra, little more than a mathematical point in the middle of the Adriatic Sea, occupies no real space through its claim, and thus the claim is fully legal under International law, and this despite the material limitations imposed by the Montevideo Convention. The City of Cyberterra is today the world's first authentic cybernetic realm or κυβερνήτης (kyvernítis), and the basis for both the UMMOA's citizenship, and the UMMOA's global citizenship claim. Cyberterra was originally founded as a purely virtual entity in September 2002, but it wasn't until the concept of Cyberterra Mean Time (CMT) was introduced in August 2009 that Cyberterra began to morph into a Cesidian law jurisdiction, the episcopal see of the Cesidian Church (CCh), and the Capital of the UMMOA.

On 20 August 2011, with a great suggestion of the Hon. Ilya Pakhomov, the UMMOA decided to claim the following disappearing islands: New Moore Island (also claimed by India and Bangladesh), Ghoramara Island (India), Lohachara Island (India), Bedford Island (India), Tebua Tarawa (Kiribati), and Bikeman Banq (Kiribati).

On 11 September 2011, the UMMOA expanded its claims by claiming a piece of the African continent: Geyser Reef (also claimed by France, Madagascar, and Comoros).

On 14 September 2011, the UMMOA as a State became an Associate Member of the Organization of Emerging African States (OEAS), and this Geyser Reef claim was formally recognised.

On 8 March 2012, a UMMOA member nation claimed a new Red Sea island. The island, located in the Zubair Group, and unnamed until that day, was baptised "Aphrodite Island" by the HMRD Cesidio Tallini, the Governor of the UMMOA, and claimed on behalf of all UMMOA nations.

On 5 May 2012, the Organization of Emerging African States (OEAS) recognised an additional 10 allodial title UMMOA claims beyond the Geyser Reef claim: Aphrodite Island (a new Red Sea island which formed thorough a volcanic eruption, which took place between December 2011 and January 2012, and which was never claimed by any other State), Bassas da India, Europa Island, Glorioso Islands, Juan de Nova Island, Tromelin Island, Amsterdam Island, Saint Paul Island, Crozet Islands, and Kerguelen Islands. The OEAS also recognises these islands or archipelagos as UMMOA protectorates: Mayotte and Chagos Archipelago. So two intergovernmental organisations recognise the UMMOA's claims to 22 of the UMMOA's 30 insular claims, and the UMMOA is also recognised as the Protector, not Governor, of another 2 islands or archipelagos.

On 30 July 2014, the UMMOA declares Île Verte (Green Island) the 30th UMMOA insular possession article.

In December 2012 the Governor of the UMMOA was made Ambassador at Large of Antarctica and Unrepresented or Underrepresented Polities for The Multipurpose Inter-Parliamentary Union (TMIPU), and was appointed Interim Deputy Minister of Information for the Republic of Cabinda (Kabinda). The Governor of the UMMOA, besides fulfilling other roles, is still the UMMOA's only accredited diplomatic agent, and has even acted as authentic Consul for a real Native Antarctic.

On 21 February 2013, the Ryamecah Declaration of Indigenous Independence (ISBN: 1482510553) was published. This marks the beginning of the official existence of the Native American Ryamecah (RY) Confederation — the Ryamecah started less officially on 18 January 2013.

On 26 February 2013, the International Criminal Court (ICC) responded to a UMMOA complaint as it would to any other subject of International law.

On 15 April 2013, a Saint René Descartes University (StRDU) prize recommendation was welcomed by the Norwegian Nobel Committee, and he was made one of the 259 Candidates for the 2013 Nobel Peace Prize.

On 22 July 2013, the Quinquennial Anniversary of the juridical establishment of the UMMOA was celebrated; a Special Mass of celebration was offered for all.

On 3 September 2013, the Hernici (8ED) Tribe was formally registered with the Paradiplomatic Affairs (PDA) organisation. This marks the beginning of the official existence of the aboriginal European Hernici Tribe — the Hernici started less officially on 10 August 2013.

On 28 September 2013, the UMMOA officially started its first Census. Because of this effort, we now know that the UMMOA has 68 nationals (as of 5 November 2013), and the English language, and at least another six languages, are actively used in the UMMOA on a daily basis. The first UMMOA Census has also produced an official definition for indigenous in the UMMOA, since it means you are part of the Archimedes [part of the Ryamecah] and/or Hernici tribes, the two UMMOA government approved tribes.

The UMMOA Today

The UMMOA today is a territorial Nation and State, and community of Nations and States enjoying a degree of international recognition not comparable to a UN Member State, but not insignificant.

The UMMOA is recognised by, and affiliated with, IGOs and NGOs such as

1. the Organization of Emerging African States (IGO of emerging African Nations and States);
2. Nations Without States (a pressure group of the UK National Liberal Party which highlights the plight of peoples who aspire to nationhood);

3. The Multipurpose Inter-Parliamentary Union (IGO concentrating in conflict prevention, reconciliation and peace-building, and sustainable development in rural areas); and
4. Chamber of Computer Logistics People Worldwide (an India-based NGO which has Special Consultative Status with the United Nations Economic and Social Council).

The UMMOA is also recognised by the Republic of Cabinda (or Kabinda), a de facto State which the UMMOA considers a de jure State, and is recognised by the Government of Southern Cameroons (or Ambazonia/British Southern Cameroons). The UMMOA also has real and bilateral relations with de facto States such as Sovereign Nations Oasis, the Principado Ilhéu da Pontinha, and New Guinea.

The UMMOA manages its own small university, which has managed to supply one of the 259 Candidates for the Nobel Peace Prize this year; a multidisciplinary professional, paradiplomatic, and alternative standards agency; a government news agency, independent media outlet, and limited-purpose newswire service; a church; and these organisations also enjoy external recognition as the UMMOA itself.

The UMMOA also runs its own global Internet just like the United States, and the United States even publicly disputes its 11 insular Pacific Ocean and Caribbean Sea claims.

Not only is the UMMOA a Nation or People, but is actually composed of tribes indigenous or aboriginal to two continents, not one. The UMMOA is also building the Fifth World Community (5WC), a Google-registered diaxenospitia (neologism for a globally-distributed village or burgh), which already incorporates the real properties of three micronations on two continents.

The UMMOA has four major national missions. The UMMOA now exists:

1. to preserve human rights (Nation and State function);
2. to physically preserve human beings and their progeny (religious and salvific function);
3. to preserve the Earth as a perfect environment for human beings to grow in harmony with the natural environment (environmental and ecological function);
4. to preserve as much linguistic diversity as is practical, culturally desirable, and economically feasible (linguistic and culture preserving function).

Unlike other governments, the UMMOA does not treat the private wealth of its individual nationals as collective or national wealth, as it finds nothing legitimate with this imperialistic and parasitical practice. UMMOA nationals or Ummoagians have a nationalised wealth worth a current market value of 200 US dollars (134.54 Euro) — figures as of 16 September 2014.

Ummoagian Research

The UMMOA is deeply involved with what is probably the world's most advanced political science, Cesidian political science, and this field has also lead to the verification of some space science notions with potential applications in the permanent colonisation of space.

In June 2011 an indoor/outdoor solar-powered aquaponics self-sufficiency project was funded at least in part with UMMOA funds, and while the project has not produced any new hoped for developments in the field of microlending, it has produced a working Fifth World aquaponics system in September 2011.

The UMMOA has founded an alternative Internet, the Cesidian Root, which continues to develop, and is participating in financial and legal applications which have already lead to innovative, natural resource future contingent licences (FCLs) in Africa, and with these, new economic potential for emerging States enjoying little or no de jure status.

The UMMOA is also involved in the developing field of Cesidian law; in analytic theology; in advanced eschological and scriptural interpretation; in advanced calendric science; in distributed demographics; and in micropatrolological history.

However, new discoveries are also happening in the field of archaeology, and right in an area of the world — off the coast of Madeira — where the UMMOA is also making new concurrent developments in applied geographic science.

It should also be noted that besides a 2013 Nobel Peace Prize Candidate, one Ummoagian is also the actual Winner of an international superprize. On 25 June 2013, during a formal reception in London, Louis Pouzin was awarded one of the first trophies of the Queen Elizabeth Prize for Engineering from Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II herself!

Ummoagian Culture

The UMMOA's population today is largely anglophile, with significant minorities of Italian, French, and German speakers, who are usually not speakers of the minority languages only. Any article available in both English and Italian could be read by any current UMMOA national without a problem. However, the UMMOA Governor sometimes deliberately funds translations of articles also into French and Russian, sometimes into other languages, in order to encourage greater linguistic diversity, but also to encourage intranational economic transactions providing economic opportunities to good domestic bilingual translators. Ummoagians are thus open-minded from a linguistic point of view, and the culture itself encourages linguistic tolerance, while in other countries only a sham ethnic or racial tolerance exists, which is actually the by-product of past colonial exploitation, and the exploitation of people continues even to this day despite the nominal abolition of slavery and racial discrimination, since real minorities are still being exploited and ill-treated through corporate and government linguistic, employment, legalistic and fiscal practises.

The UMMOA's population is entirely distributed over the northern hemisphere of the planet, and is very technologically sophisticated. This is due only in part because the scattered nature of the UMMOA encourages the full use of the Internet, but also because the UMMOA itself maintains its own alternative Internet, the Cesidian Root! Moreover, part of the novel Cesidian law the UMMOA follows is a legal concept called jus cerebri electronici, Latin for "right of the server", and thus technological freedom is embedded in the UMMOA psyche in a very special way, while the legal concept called jus cerebri humani, Latin for "right of the human brain", boosts creativity and application creation, and the related rights of innovators.

Demographically, one can state that the majority of Ummoagians live in the Fifth World Community (5WC), a trait which does not really make them very "urban", only very diaxenospitian — which means they are genuinely cosmopolitan, unlike most urban dwellers. Diaxenospitians also appreciate freedom more, for themselves and their peers, and are more environmentally-friendly than most urban dwellers. Unlike in "civilised" villages, towns and cities, unlike in most "advanced" countries, in the tribalised UMMOA many people practice various forms of natural or traditional medicine in their dwellings without any legal restriction, just as they did after Henry VIII introduced the Herbalists' Charter. Part of the novel Cesidian law the UMMOA follows is a legal concept called jus humanae salutis, Latin for "right of human health (or salvation)", and jus humanae salutis doesn't apply solely to human health, but also to spiritual or religious matters, causing an exponential increase in natural health and spiritual and religious freedom as a result.

Ummoagians are also glued together, and further emancipated by the influence of the Cesidian calendar, a 14-month calendar with varied pedagogical applications; which doesn't have a Columbus Day, but an actual month of Columbus; which has a day in place of Columbus Day celebrating all nations and peoples, not just Native American ones, the “Feast of Nations”; which doesn't have a Mother's Day, but a whole 13th month of Montessori, devoted entirely to Maria Montessori (1870–1952), and the creative female gender!

The UMMOA also uses the Swatch-inspired Internet Time in a novel way with the CMT standard, and the CMT format, and this allows for a more relaxed pace of time not to the second, or even to the minute, but to the beat – which is equal to 86.4 seconds, or 1 minute and 26.4 seconds, and there are no smaller intervals of time to be obsessed about than the beat in the CMT format!

On 27 December 2013, the UMMOA Collective Membership Mark [UMMOA™] application was filed by the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO), and was assigned serial number '86153190'. On 26 August 2014, the UMMOA Trademark became the UMMOA® Registered Trademark '4592162'. UMMOA® is thus a registered trademark of Cesidio Tallini.
